Community Support Among COVID-19

Staff Reports

Eastvale – This month, the coronavirus (COVID-19) caused businesses to close instead of open. However, the Eastvale community continued to grow in a different way, as residents and City officials have come together to combat COVID-19.

As of April 6, the Riverside University Health System reported 29 confirmed cases of COVID-19 and 1 confirmed death in the City of Eastvale. Several residents have shown concern with the increase of cases in the city. But a third Riverside County community testing site has been established at Harvest Christian Fellowship church in Riverside for residents who want to be tested for COVID-19. Those who want to be tested can call 800-945-6171 for an appointment.

To get tested, you must have symptoms and have an appointment before showing up at the church parking lot. Drive-ups without appointments cannot be accommodated. For more information on the COVID-19 and new testing facilities, please visit: https://www.rivcoph.org/coronavirus.

The City has also done their part to provide resources to the community and remind residents to only leave your house for essential services, practice social distancing, and wear a face mask when leaving your house. In addition, a wide variety of helpful resources are currently available via the City’s Facebook page. They’ve shared videos of Surgeon General Dr. Jerome Adams showing how to make your own face mask and see Community page 10.

Eastvale Girl Delivers Kindness in the Community

Staff Reports

Eastvale - As more and more schools close, many students have to endure being separated from their friends during these trying times. For many children, this quarantine seems like a lifetime of separation. Instead of letting this fact get her down, 8 year old Lana Riad of Eastvale found a creative way to reach out to some of her best friends in this isolation. Lana had asked her mother Jennifer if she could make cards and buy gifts for her friends because she missed them so much. Her handmade cards expressed compassion in making sure they are staying healthy and safe. Each gift bag was delivered to her friends homes and placed at the front porch.

Tint Your Windows at Mr. Tint

Staff Reports

Norco - Car window tinting is one of the best ways to improve the look and comfort of your vehicle. You can protect the interior of the vehicle from sun damage by tinting the windows. Sunlight and heat can cause your interior, like seats and the dashboard, to fade, crack and deteriorate. Window tinting reduces the sunlight allowed into the vehicle or refunded back to you. VintageFest will include aircraft fly-bys, many of which were scheduled for our 2020 Airshow. We appreciate your understanding and support during these challenging times.

Pastor’s Corner: 10 Confessions of a Christian-Confession #1: I’m a Liar

CHRIS KIRISH

I confess… I’m a liar.
Perhaps you can relate. Someone approaches and asks me how I’m doing.
Conjuring every ounce of strength I have left I force a smile.
“I’m good! How are you?”
Why did I just lie? Is it because I think it’s what they want me to hear? Is it because it’s what American culture has trained us to hear? Is it because it’s what we think people want us to be? We bury the feelings. We lie about who we are. We put on a face. We play the part. We act it out. We behave the way we think people want us to behave. We bury the feelings.
Now we have a million reasons why we do this. It could be our up bringing, our lack of trust, or it could simply be because John Wayne said it’s “What a man’s got to do.” Why is John Wayne so awe...

Eastvale - if you’ve tried to sell your home yourself, you know that the minute you put the “For Sale by Owner” sign up, the phone will start ringing of the hook. Unfortunately, most calls aren’t from prospective buyers, but rather other real estate agents in town who will start hounding you for your listing. Like other “For Sale by Owner”, you’ll probably be subjected to a hundred sales pitches from agents who will tell you how great you are and how you can’t possibly sell your home by yourself. This can be a very frustrating time, and many homeowners have given up their dreams of selling their homes themselves. But don’t give up yet.

You’ve read a news article entitled “Sell Your Own Home” which has been prepared especially for homeowners like you. You’ll find that selling your home by yourself is entirely possible once you understand the process. You’ve probably read that it will take more than 6 months to sell your home by yourself which will sell for the best price is the shortest amount of time. Pastor’s Corner: Sharing With Others

Several years after my wife finished an extensive series of treatments for breast cancer, some friends invited us to use their house while they were away to give her an opportunity to rest and recover from this exhausting journey. Her home was on the water in Newport Beach, California. When we walked up to the house, we were amazed at how beautiful and peaceful it was. It was not on the beach with all the tourists and bicycles but on Newport Shores where it was quiet and restful.

She began to regain her strength as we went for short walks along the water. As the days went by she felt more and more ambitious and determined to walk further. By the end of our stay she was walking all the way from the house to the pier and back. It felt like we were on an extended vacation even though we were only thirty miles from home.

On several occasions over the years other friends have shared their cabins in the mountains east of Los Angeles. My wife was a school teacher and after the end of a busy school year, we often went out to the mountains to get out of the foggy June Gloom and enjoy the blue skies and warm sunshine. Our wedding anniversary was also in June so this provided a perfect setting to rest and celebrate together. When our children were younger, a friend loaned us his motorhome for our family vacation.

We are so thankful for the people who have shared so much with us. There is a verse in the Bible that says, “Instruct those who are younger than you to do in the service of the Lord, and to be strong and well provided.” (First Timothy 6:17-18). You may not think of yourself as rich but I am confident that you do have things that you can share with others. You may have a mountain cabin, a beach house, or a motorhome. You may have an extra car or tools that you can lend. You may have experience, knowledge or skills that you can share with others. Let me encourage you to watch for an opportunity to share some things you have with neighbors, friends or people in need. You will be glad you did and they will too!

As a community we are facing a tough situation, as many new orders and guidelines have changed our normal way of life in response to the COVID-19 pandemic. As we face this together, it is important to remember to be kind to others and mindful of those in need. Let’s remember not to hoard items or price gouge as we visit grocery stores. Remember to always be courteous to others when shopping for essentials. Remember to thank those who have been serving on the front lines to provide essential services to families within the community and across the state. Remember that we are all facing this together, and we can get through this time as a community.

Remember To Practice Social Distancing

During this time as you prepare to walk, run, bike, or visit an essential business in the community, remember to continue to practice social distancing. This means to remain a safe social distance of six feet from those who are not part of your household. Also, remember to wash your hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds.

Please note, the COVID-19 pandemic is a rapidly evolving situation and guidelines may change daily. For the latest updates, please visit: www.eastvaleca.gov/coronavirus.

Pastor's Corner: Faith is Stronger

Dennis Morales

"...Be strong and of good courage; do not be afraid, nor be dismayed, for the LORD your God is with you wherever you go." Joshua 1:9

As Joshua took the baton from Moses, his first task as new leader was to take the million plus people across the Jordan and into the Promised Land. It appeared to be a daunting task, because it was harvest time and the Jordan was swollen beyond its banks. Nevertheless, God gave the instructions to cross. The priests would go first. God said the moment they touched the Jordan river water with their feet, the flowing water would part, and all the people could cross. Three days the people waited as they watched the torrent of water. Three days for the enemy to try to plant seeds of doubt and fear in everyone’s hearts. It would take great faith to cross the Jordan. Joshua encouraged the people as he was encouraged by God to have faith. The day came for the people to cross, and they did as God had commanded them. We know from the story why God wanted the priests to go first. It’s because they carried the Ark of the covenant. The Ark represented God’s presence to His people. It was always at the center of the camp and was to be at the center of God’s people. When the priests went into the Jordan, they were told to stand in the center of the riverbed until everyone crossed. The Ark stood with them in the middle of the riverbed until all the people crossed. They experienced God’s presence with them as they crossed to dispel any doubt or fear. It took faith as they waited and as they crossed, but God brought them through. The same is true today. God standing with you. Faith is the opposite of doubt and fear. Trust the Lord to bring you through this difficult time.

some? But whatever the case is, we continue to suppress what we’re going through and we hide our struggles and sins from others. But, that does not erase the ever nagging question in the back of our minds... is this the way it was supposed to be? Is this how life is supposed to be? Am I hard-wired in my DNA to deal with everything on my own? Is this the way God wanted it to be? Does God want me to carry this weight alone?

I mean sure, not everyone needs to know your deepest darkest secrets and not every-one needs to know you’re not having a good day. But maybe someone should know. Maybe suppressing the pain, hiding our struggles, and lying is not what God wanted for us. I find it to be fascinating that Jesus had a tremendous amount of compassion and grace for every sinner He came into contact with and yet He was extremely hard on the people who acted like they had it all together. We don’t have to guess as to why He felt this way – Jesus made it clear for us.

Matthew 25:27 “Woe to you, teachers of the law and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You are like whitewashed tombs, which look beautiful on the outside but on the inside are full of the bones of the dead and every-thing unclean. 28 In the same way, on the outside you ap-peared to people as righteous but on the inside you are full of hy-poocrisy and wickedness.”

I’m no theologian but it seems to me that Jesus really didn’t like it when people faked it. And although we like to pic-ture Jesus as a blond haired hippy surfer, carrying a lamp on his shoulders, smiling all the time, and saying “God bless you” – it may not be too far of a stretch to say Jesus was pretty angry at these religious lead-ers and He may not have been smiling or carrying a lamp at this moment. And if you think about it, God has never liked it when we hide. In fact, this problem of hiding goes all the way back to the Garden of Eden. Genesis 3 tells us that when God came walking in the Garden after Adam and Eve sinned and ate from the tree God commanded them not to eat – they hid from God. This made God angry. And they weren’t the only ones.

Jonah once tried hiding from God too. He got on a boat that was headed in the opposite direction from where God was calling him. Jonah though he could run and hide from God. I remember that not going very well for him.

Something about a big fish? In the same way, many of us are still trying to hide from God today. We hide behind a smile. Behind a title. Behind a façade. A part we play for the people we think will judge us if they really knew us. Can I encourage you today? Drop the mask. You may be fooling people but you’ll never fool God. And God doesn’t want you to be perfect but he does demand that you’re honest. God can help a sinner but He can’t help someone who pretends like they’re not a sin-ner. God can do anything and He can save anyone but one thing God won’t do – He won’t save someone who won’t admit they need a Savior. Drop the mask. Tell God the truth and then go tell someone else the truth.

The city has also posted a Riverside County Department of Public Social Services COVID list, showing what to clean when you get home from buying essentials. Also shared was a caution to be aware of price gougers and scams. Price gougers are subject to criminal prosecution, which can result in imprisonment and/or a fine up to $10,000. You can report price gouging by filling out the Riverside County District Attorney’s Office price gouging complaint form: https://bit.ly/2WQNd. For more information, please visit: https://bit.ly/2R7onx5. Also shared was a Riverside University Health System announcement to “Visit: Eastvale COVID-19 Resources in Place, Maintain Your Space, and Cover Your Face” whenout essential tasks. For more information, please see the following video: https://vimeo.com/402767450.

A new enforcement and first responders has also been tremendous as local organiza- tions and community mem- bers have donated supplies. Eastvale residents dropped off care packages last month to the Jurupa Valley Sheriff’s Station. Eastvale Kiwanis also donated protective equipment to the Jurupa Valley Sheriff’s Station.

Lastly, the Eastvale Chinese American Association donated 1,000 N95 masks to the City to distribute to first responders and City employees.

Local businesses are also being supported by the community. The City announced two Great American Take- out days in March, suggesting com- munity members order takeout from local restaurants for the next month. They also listed 15 Eastvale organizations that are offering take out or delivery.

The list can be found at: East- valeca.gov/coronavirus. Several businesses have even offered special times for individuals who are seniors, pregnant, or disabled. This list includes: Masala House Grocery (open from 9:00 a.m. - 10:00 a.m. for seniors), Smart n Final (open at 7:00 a.m. for seniors, pregnant women, and disabled), Albertsons and Vons (open from 7:00 a.m. - 9:00 a.m. for vulner- abler populations), Smart n Final (open at 8:00 a.m. - 9:00 a.m. on Wednesday mornings seniors, pregnant women, and medical conditions) and Ralph’s (prioritizing seniors in line).

In addition, Supervisor Karen Spie- gel hosted a Riverside County Business Resource Town Hall meeting to discuss how busi- nesses impacted by COVID-19 can obtain loans, grants, or more information on the Fed- eral Government's CARES ACT. Our region has been affected during this time, especially after CNUSD extended their closure date to June 19, 2020. The district’s Free To-Go-Meal Program is available during the temporary district-wide school closure. This program is open to all students 18-years-old & un- der as long as someone in their family is enrolled in CNUSD. For more information, please visit: http://bit.ly/3a1FhNE. Relax It Will Be Better Soon
NANCY STOOPS

Since we all have been hit with news of the Coronavirus many people are very anxious. We all need to relax and practice a lot of selfcare right now to help us need to exercise, meditate, eat well, take vitamins and supplements, get lots of rest, drink lots of water, do things we enjoy and other things that make us happy.

Many people are hoarding items but we have been told repeatedly that there is no need for that. We need to stay to date but we don’t have to listen to the news all day long. We need to maintain a very positive outlook. Stress actu- ally wears down our immune system and now especially we need strong immune systems. Echinacea is a wonderful herb that can help strengthen our immune system. I take it daily and I feel it for most of my life and I rarely get sick.

I also think we must prac- tice being grateful everyday and continually think about all we are blessed with. We must be kind to each other and look out for our neighbors. We can check in with each other and make sure we all have what we need. This is a great time for all of us to practice being bet- ter human beings. Anger and fear are not the way that we will heal from all of this. We must practice kindness, tolerance, patience and humanity. We all have to practice this because there are many lessons we could learn from.

Take advantage of working from home. Take ad- vantage of your children being home with you. Take advan- tage of all the clean air we have from all of the rain. Look around everywhere is so green and beautiful and we live in such a lovely community. Start a new hobby, play with your children, take walks together with the dog. Try to enjoy your time at home with each other. Play some games, cook togeth- er, listen to some music, watch movies, and take this time to enjoy your family. May God bless us all and may this be over very soon!

Autism Mom: Why the World May Be Shutting Down

MELODY KRAEMER

The world is shutting down, so it may seem. Though is it? Is the universe telling us something is wrong with the way we are socializing for “social distancing” for years. Ever since we became the electronic world, people don’t seem to talk nor communicate.

Everywhere you look, people are on their electronic devices. Many people for a very long time have not looked up from their phones.

I have seen people in restau- rants on their phones and not focusing on the person in front of them. I walk by people on the streets and they will bump into me not paying attention. Many car accidents I have read are caused by texting. So this so- cial distancing is not new, it’s just now we can’t stand next to each other unless they are six feet away. But let’s be honest, many people never realized there was someone who was standing next to them.

Maybe now we can get a grasp on life and think about what there is out there. There is a world of beauty and people that will smile at you.

Sometimes I felt so alone in a world of people, why be- cause some have no idea who or what is around them. Somewhere never look up from your phones to see a smile in front of them. Or they are too busy worrying or what is around them. Some- one needs to see a smile in front of them.

Now that everything has shut down and nowhere to go, maybe, just maybe, some will look up from their phones and see there’s a beautiful family in front of them and put down the electronics and get back to basics.

Enjoy the quiet moments, smile at the simple things, and have fun by talking, what a concept. Hopefully, on the oth- er side of this crisis, life will be better, friendships and families will be stronger. Plus, the love of electronics will subside and the world will become a more delightful connected place be- tween one another.
